Transport Scotland Email of 4 August 2014

Dear Chris,

On review of the information considered to date for PE1509, I note that no reference has been made to a package of timetable improvement measures for Aberdeen commuters introduced in May 2014.

Extra commuter services were introduced between Inverurie to Dyce and Aberdeen, delivering an additional service in each direction during the morning and evening peaks. This improved the choice of services available to passengers at peak times. An additional early morning service from Huntly and Insch to Aberdeen has also been added to the current timetable.

Kind Regards,

Caroline Connelly
