

PE1530/F

Jane Eyres Email of 5 November 2014

Dear Sir,

I am shocked that the issue of 'intelligent design' even needs to be debated. For myself, I would consign it to a brief mention in comparative RE classes, as something believed by some religious people, but it has absolutely no place in any science classroom. I do hope your committee comes down on the side of rationalism.

Yours faithfully,

Jane Ayres

A very concerned, pro-science, UK citizen