

PE1600/J

Petitioner submission of 25 April 2017

One begins to appreciate why Government can take so long to make a decision when so many bodies are involved in the process.

Given that the Scottish Government seem to be at odds with the UK Government I am surprised that the Lord Advocate is waiting on a report by them in order to carry forward any judgment he may make!